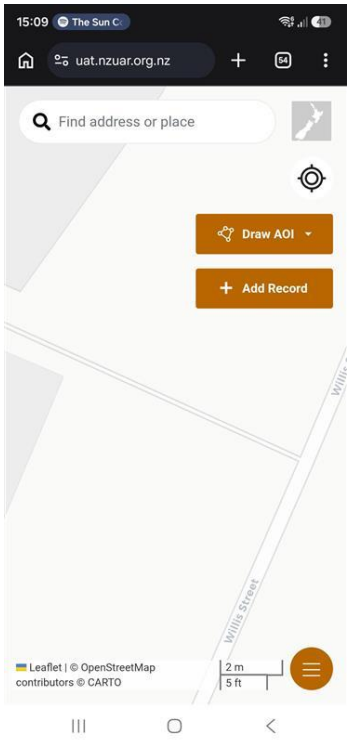
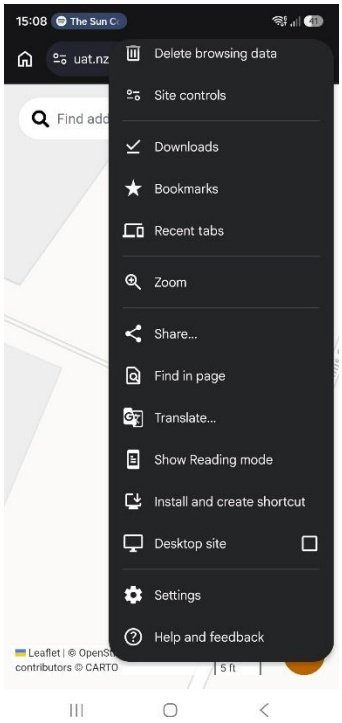
Is there a mobile app?

We don't have an app that you can download in an app store, however UAR is optimised for mobile and tablet.

The user interface is a bit different, with UAR primarily positioned to enable users to add site records whilst on site, as well as create Areas of Interest. Users are not able to turn on the general layers menu on the mobile version.



It is possible to create a shortcut for UAR on your phone. When you are on the browser, select the three dots.



On the menu, scroll down and select "Install and create shortcut". Give it a name and it'll create an app-like icon on your home screen.

If you have any questions, don't hesitate to contact us:
support@nzuar.org.nz